IN THE MATTER OF:	The Nova Scotia Regulator of Psychology
AND IN THE MATTER OF:	Nataša Mitrović, Candidate Register Psychologist
AND IN THE MATTER OF:	A settlement agreement pursuant to section 87 of the Regulated Health Professions Act, SNS 2023, c 15

NOTICE OF SUSPENSION

On February 18, 2026, the Professional Conduct Committee accepted a Settlement Agreement agreed upon by Nataša Mitrović and the Regulator.

Pursuant to the terms of the suspension, Nataša Mitrović's licence to practise psychology is suspended from March 4 to May 3, 2026.

During the period of suspension, Nataša Mitrović is prohibited from practising psychology. She is also prohibited from using the protected title "psychologist" and holding herself out as a psychologist.

Nataša Mitrović admitted that she engaged professional misconduct in that she:

a. failed to maintain appropriate boundaries by employing Client A at Roth and Associates;

b. failed to maintain appropriate boundaries by entering into a personal relationship with Client A, the particulars of which included:

    i. exchanging personal text messages with Client A; and

    ii. inviting Client A to attend events at her residence;

c. failed to refer Client A to another psychologist upon initially noting the existence of a dual relationship;

d. failed to disclose the dual relationship to her NSBEP supervisor until the deterioration of the relationship; and

e. failed to arrange for continuity of care for Client A upon the termination of the therapeutic relationship.

A summary of the Professional Conduct Committee's decision will be published on the Regulator's website in due course.
